

CASTORIA

for Infants and Children.

MOTHERS, Do You Know that Paregoric, Bateman's Drops, Godfrey's Cordial, many so-called Soothing Syrups, and most remedies for children are composed of opium or morphine?

Do You Know that opium and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons?

Do You Know that in most countries druggists are not permitted to sell narcotics without labeling them poisons?

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of its ingredients is published with every bottle?

Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castoria is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined?

Do You Know that the Patent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word "Castoria" and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense?

Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Castoria had been proven to be absolutely harmless?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a dose?

Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kept well, and that you may have unbroken rest?

Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts.

The fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Pitcher is on every wrapper.

THE FRILLED LIZARD.

One of the Most Attractive Members of the Reptilian Family.

In an article on European subjects of interest the New York World gives the first place in the list to the frilled lizard, which has recently come to the London zoological gardens, the greatest collection of animals in the world, and one of the few institutions of which England has reason to be proud. The frilled lizard also bears the dignified name of chlamydosaurus kingii. He is a graceful and beautifully colored reptile, with an arrangement of skin behind his head not unlike a pair of wings. He can open and close these wings at pleasure. Apparently he spreads them solely for the purpose of calling attention to his beauty and his superiority to ordinary lizards.

No Wonder.

"You seem very uncomfortable," said Mrs. Cayenne. "I am exceedingly uncomfortable. I have something on my mind." "Ah! Then it's no wonder," Washington Star.

It Must Bore Him.

"Begin at the bottom and work to the top," is splendid advice to be giving. And yet it is not the best hint we can drop to the man who digs wells for a living.

When they put a man in jail, he cannot follow his natural inclinations. He cannot eat what he wants to—he is limited to a very frugal diet. Is it not equally true of a dyspeptic? For all of the real enjoyment he gets out of life, he might as well be in jail, he cannot eat what he likes, nor enough. He suffers much, gets little sympathy. At first, perhaps a little nervous, windy belchings and heartburn; headaches and biliousness and a foul taste in the mouth in the morning. Chronic constipation is almost inevitable, and means that the body is holding poisonous, impure matter that should be gotten rid of. The poison being reabsorbed into the blood may lead to almost any disease. Constipation is the start of it all. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation; cure it so it stays cured. No other remedy in the world will do that.

IT CURED THEM ALL.

Mr. Henry Shira, Girard, Ala., says: "Two years ago I had a severe case of Grippe and could not recover from its effects. About a year ago I tried King's Royal Cornetuer and was soon well. It also cured me of bowel trouble, which I had for four years and I find it to be a quick cure for headache. It cured my wife of Grippe also and she says it is the best thing she can get for Asthma and Vertigo. I heartily recommend it as a good family medicine." New package, large bottle, 108 doses, $1. FOR THE BLOOD AND LIVER.

Benah S. Winfree, of Hopkinsville, Ky. writes the following: "We have used Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills and regard them as the best blood purifier and liver medicine that we have ever found."

Hood's Pills are especially prepared for use when with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

THEY MADE MONEY FAST

Millionaires Whose Wealth Came as by Magic.

Barney Barnato's Checkered Career and Final Financial Success—How Nicholas Brady Rose from Obscurity to Influence.

In these prosaic days when a Chicago railway king desires to give his brother millionaires a "jolt" he saunters out and purchases a $10,000 fur-lined overcoat. That is what Gen. Joseph T. Torrence did the other day.

Gen. Torrence—the title is bestowed by courtesy—made all his money out of railroads. He has been building and operating railroads since he was of age. He is reputed to be worth $25,000,000. Not long since he completed a five-story mansion in Chicago, which, because of the magnificence of its exterior and interior decorations, is regarded as one of the wonders of that city.

John D. Rockefeller is probably the wealthiest man on the western hemisphere. He is reputed to be worth $200,000,000. It has all been made since he became 21 years old. He is the oil king of the world. His fat, if it can so be termed, is philanthropy. He made the University of Chicago what it is by his wealth. He lives modestly, teaches a Sunday-school class—so do his wife and daughters—and has no hobby outside the desire to do the greatest possible amount of good with the money which he has accumulated.

Cecil J. Rhodes, the diamond king of South Africa, does not know just how much he is worth. A recent writer says that he is a choice compound of Nero, Attila and Genghis Khan with some of the amiable traits of Dick Turpin and Boss Tweed.

Mr. Rhodes is an Oxford man, puny in his early days and with the prospect of an early death before him. He went to South Africa to recuperate, liked it, took to conservative politics and speculation, and there he stays. He is described as an Englishman, 42 years of age, big and strong in physique and in brain masterful, a man of great ideas, a man who justifies his ideals by his deeds; he learned the business of diamond mining; he became interested in a mining company. But there were many mines and many companies.

Mr. Rhodes determined to consolidate the mining companies, to control them all. He accomplished his purpose. It was not easily done nor quickly. Vast capital was required—$150,000,000 at the minimum. The great amalgamation was one of the most important events and one of the most interesting in the financial world. He is worth to-day perhaps $35,000,000. And it has been made within 20 years.

There is another Englishman whose wealth is, simply stupendous, when viewed even in the light of 19th century fortunes. His name is "Barney" Barnato. To his friends he is plain "Barney." Who is he? Few can tell with accuracy. He is outspoken and frank and his wealth, estimated at all sorts of figures, but probably $100,000,000, has not turned his head. Barnato has been a barber, circus performer, circus manager, theatrical promoter, gold mine owner, gold mine owner and gold mine promoter.

The parallel to Barnato of the millionaires who have been made in a score of years on this side of the Atlantic is "Anthony" Nicholas Brady, the gas king of New York. He began life as a cashier in an Albany barber shop. Then he took charge of the bar at the Delerian house; then he ran six saloons, and finally he drifted into the gas business. He was a free-lance man, in the language of the day, he had "money of his own." Then he took to sleeping with the gas and out of this he has made a fortune. He has no taste. He is a home man with simple tastes. He is a quiet and unobtrusive, but as quick as lightning at a deal. Here is the story of one of his latest transactions. "The Providence" (the Providence) street railway was in the market and they were brought, almost as a matter of course, to Mr. Brady, who had money for such investments. That was Friday, Friday night Mr. Brady took the train to Providence and spent Saturday there making his examination. For the examination of such a system some experts would have taken two weeks. But on Monday morning, bright and early, Mr. Brady was back in Wall street advising his associates to go into the deal. At noon Monday a contract for $38,000,000 was concluded, and the deal so hastily made has resulted in one of the most profitable investments in the world. Mr. Brady's wealth is estimated at $23,000,000.

Acuteness of Touch.
The sense of touch is most acute when the skin is warm, because then the circulation is good. Muffs were formerly used by doctors in order to keep their hands warm and enable them properly to judge of the pulse of their patients.
